Brandi represents corporate and individual clients in a wide variety of litigation matters in state and federal court and arbitrations. She also has experience arguing constitutional claims in state and federal courts.

In law school, Brandi was a moot court champion, participating in national and school-wide moot court competitions, and was a SLIP intern at the US Department of Justice.

Previous Work

Prior to joining Arent Fox, Brandi was an associate at a boutique law firm litigating cases involving business disputes, professional license defense, and complex state level litigation. There, she gained valuable litigation experience, drafting and arguing motions and briefs, taking and defending depositions, sitting second chair at trial, and participating in mediation and settlement negotiation.
