Li focuses her practice on the representation of clients within the health care industry, including home health agencies, skilled nursing facilities, personal care homes and assisted living facilities, on transactional and regulatory compliance matters. Her experience includes change of ownership transactions, corporate compliance, state licensure, federal and state regulatory compliance, mergers and acquisitions, and real estate matters.

Li holds a certification in healthcare compliance (CHC) from the Health Care Compliance Association.

Previous Work

Prior to joining Arent Fox, Li worked as a corporate associate at a large international law firm where her practice focused on structured finance, secured lending and corporate/securities transactions.

Professional Activities

Li is an active member of the New York City Bar Association and the Metropolitan Black Bar Association.

Li also serves as a Young Professionals Board Member with Friends of the Children New York, an organization dedicated to breaking the cycle of generational poverty through mentoring.

Life Beyond Law

In her free time, Li enjoys painting, writing and volunteering with community organizations.
