Melissa has experience representing corporate and individual clients in a variety of criminal and civil enforcement investigations, including investigations conducted by United States Attorney's offices, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and state prosecutors. Melissa also represents clients in complex civil litigations.

Melissa's experience includes working on the representation of clients through various phases of insider trading, securities fraud, health care fraud, antitrust, public corruption, and procurement fraud investigations and prosecutions/enforcement actions. Specifically, Melissa has played a key role in a suppression hearing raising complex first impression issues, sentencings, and witness proffers before criminal and regulatory authorities. In her civil practice, Melissa's experience includes working on the representation of clients in securities fraud, employment, and civil rights cases.
