Jason also has an active domestic litigation practice. He litigates complex commercial disputes in federal and state courts around the country, especially in Delaware. He has substantive experience in motions practice, discovery disputes, and appeals, including parallel and multi-forum litigation and conflict of laws matters.

He is particularly interested in constitutional law and administrative procedure, conflict of laws issues, the interaction between courts and tribunals, and is adept at handling all manner of contract and treaty-based causes of action. He represents plaintiff and defense clients.

Previous Work

Prior to joining Arent Fox, Jason was a Judicial Intern at the US Court of Federal Claims. At law school, Jason served as the Executive Editor of the Georgetown Environmental Law Review and assisted emerging companies and nonprofits with organization and governance documents as part of the Social Enterprise and Nonprofit Law Clinic. Jason also participated in the Vis Arbitration Team and received an award for his scholarship on Investor-State Dispute Settlement.

Prior to law school, Jason completed infrastructure projects in Iceland following the economic crash as a US-Fulbright-Icelandic Government Scholar. He was also a fellow at the Heinrich Böll Cottage on Achill Island, Ireland, where he composed poetry, featured in Undercurrents: New Voices in Canadian Poetry. He is a dual national of the United States and Canada and has lived throughout Europe.
